FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 6th, 1866

"Pm a good Union man-so called-but 1'll be on Dixie as long as I've got a dollar."

Two books have just been published in New York, which are creating more sensation than all other books of the day, and there are few Southern families that will be satisfied without them. They are emphatically THE Books. We allude to "Bill Arp" and the "Prison Life of Jefferson Davis." in view, namely, "to encourage Southern The latter is written by Dr. Craven, the may be obtained at Osborne & Co's.

We have received the last number of the Home Novels, a monthly publication, each number complete in itself, and sold at a most astonishing low price.

Peterson for August, teeming with the freshest and most refreshing matter, is also Ewell. before us.

If you want anything to read-light or solid, romantic or historical, presaic or poetical-call at Osborne & Co's.

A Serious Affray.

On Saturday morning last a couple of ored gentleman on the plantation of Mr. W. F. Ballentine became unruly and refused to go to work. Mr. Wash. Childs, who superintends the farm, demanded that they should assist in binding some oats which had been cradled the day before, but they stubbornly refused, and by their obstinacy and impudence provoked Mr. C. to strike one of them. They came to town and spfrom their contracts, who paid them off as no late Nashville items. requested and ordered them not to go back to his place on any pretext whatever. They afterwards armed themselves and went back to the plantation, halted and popped a cap at last taken a step toward the completion at C. from a cabin door, as he was passing of the road from that city to Decatur, a from the house to the stables, who returned work of great interest to us as well as to White Lead, $25 B Keg, the fire with his pistol and then retreated them. We regret, however, that they have to the house for his shot gun; when he resubscribed only $500,000 instead of $1,turned to the cabin they were retreating | 000,000, as previously recommended by rapidly, and when he fired at them they | meeting of citizens, only halted to fire four volleys in return. The next morning a warrant was obtained, and officer Bob. Butler, with a posse of men summoned to assist him, started in pursuit of the assassins. When found, they resisted the officer, and fought desperately. One of them was badly wounded, and surrendered early in the action; the other took shelter in a ditch, and continued to fight with desperation, until finally, a shot from the pistol of William Abernathy, son of Sterling Abernathy, Esq'r., struck him in the head, from which he died in twenty minutes. Even in the death struggle he refused to surrender his pistol, but grasped it convulsively until it was wrenched from his hand. The wounded negro was examamined before a Magistrate and committed for trial. Mr. Abernathy was acquitted.

Cotton Blooms. We saw yesterday a Yankee Cotton picker, and we hope by the next season to see a cotton opener. If we could have had the use of such an instrument this week, we might have opened a bale or two of cotton, more or less, from the bolls and blooms which have been sent to our office from all quarters of the county. We could induce only one of them to disgorge its treasure, and, strange to tell, instead of the fleecy staple which bolls are wont to bear, this one yielded a peck of potatoes, a peck of apples, a dozen big onions and a sprinkling of deli- Dist. 1 cious white black berries. This is no humbug. The bloom and the vegetables and fruit all came together, and were raised on the farm of Jas. T. McKissack, now being cultivated by himself and John Gordon .-This was the first and the best bloom received at this office, and was taken from the stalk on the 1st inst. The first boll received was from the farm of Stephen and Jas, Gordon near Bethel, but it has'nt turned out anything good to eat yet Jim. Skillern, near town, Dr. Kelly, near Cornersville, and others from different portions of the county, have sent us blooms, (nearly a mess) but the superintendent of culinary affairs at our boarding house (that is our wife's Dist 1 W T Sween, Dist 2 cook) not being familiar with the manner of preparing them, we havn't tried them yet. They are now under a faithful old setting hen, and may be she'll hatch em by next week. Mean time, who'll beat raising a mega of rosating earn,

Independence day in Pulaski was celebrated alone by the colored population. A small procession marched across the square several time to the music of a fife and drum, and under the folds of a curious flag. This is the extent of the fourth of July in Pulaski. Most of our young folks, however, celbrated the day, or something else, quietly and pleasantly at a pic-nie in the country.

CAPT. REXFORD .- There is hardly a man in this county who will not remember Capt. REXFORD, the Judge Advocate of this post last year, and no one will be surprised to learn that he is now under arrest in Nashville, for having a stolen horse in his possession, knowing it to be such, belonging Rev. C. P. Reed. to our young friend Houston Pirrs. It is supposed by some, as we learn from Nashville papers, that he belongs to a gang of horse thieves known as the Mel. Zachary and Parsons' clan.

We don't know of our own personal knowledge that he is a thief, but we know that there are few men in this county who would trust him ten steps.

The Ladies' Home.

We have received a copy of this new and most excellent weekly paper, of which we have spoken several times heretofore. We had formed a very high estimate of the merits of this paper from the many flattering notices we had seen of it from high sources but our expectations are more than realized. it is a gem; its typographic finish and its literary excellence are refreshing both to the eye and the mind. Mrs. L. VIRGINIA FRENCH, McMinnville, is the editress, Dr. Powers, Atlanta, Ga., the publisher and proprietor. The "Home" has three objects authors, to furnish a first-class literary paprison Surgeon of Mr. Davis. These books per to every family, and finally to erect an elegant Home for the suffering and afflicted females of our country.

THE Nashville Banner of 30th ult. says Gen. Fisk returned to the city yesterday after a brief trip to Maury county, where he was hospitably entertained by Liet. Gen
